

ANTIA HOUSE RULES

Our House Rules are designed to ensure the safety, dignity, and well-being of everyone in our physical and digital spaces. These rules apply to all individuals present at ANTIA, including guests, staff, artists, partners, and collaborators. No one is exempt. Be mindful that this space is experienced differently by everyone. Your behaviour directly shapes others' experiences. By entering ANTIA, you agree to respect and uphold these rules.

ANTIA reserves the right to refuse entry or remove individuals whose behaviour, condition, or presentation undermines the safety, dignity, or well-being of others. These rules exist to protect the space and the people within it.

- b. We have zero tolerance for discrimination, harassment, racism, religious bigotry, sexism, transphobia, homophobia, or any behaviour that targets people based on identity. If you enter this space, you are expected to uphold its values.
